NUMEROUS CHANGES IN LOCAL SALOONS

At Least Four of These Places Will Pass Into Other Hands on July 7— Two Bids for New Stands.

For the first time in a long period it has not been necessary this year to renew saloon licenses until after the Fourth of July. The permits expire on the Monday preceding the first Tuesday of the month, and the month closed to begin on Wednesday.
In addition to the Schlitz Brewing Co.'s old stand west of the tracks which Charles Roberly wants to reopen there is one other new saloon in sight. Hemming & Atkinson wish to open a bar at No. 14 South River street. Mr. Hemming formerly managed the Riverside hotel. Several independent changes in management appear in the applications. John Heinrich expects to take the Al. Rotstein "Club Buffet" on North Main street.
P. H. Gurvin makes application for the old Van Houten & Gurvin "Brook" saloon on East Milwaukee street and Bert Van Houten expects to take over the C. J. Cascott place at 67 W. Milwaukee street. Mr. Cascott and Joseph Leighner are going to open a clothing store at 69 W. Milwaukee street.
Mrs. McShane has filed her request for a license to run the "Club Buffet" at 264 W. Milwaukee st. Nearly all the independent men have been heard from and it is expected that the new year's saloon licenses will be issued by the city clerk.

NATIONAL CONVENTION TO OPEN ON TUESDAY NEXT

Twentieth National Assemblage Of The Dem- ocratic Party Begins Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., July 2.—At this time, on the eve of the democratic national convention, it is interesting to recall the great conventions that have been held by that party in the past. The convention which opens in Denver next Tuesday will be the twentieth national assemblage of the democratic party, while the one held recently in Chicago was only the fourteenth democratic party assemblage.
But the democratic party surpasses the republicans in age much more than this difference would indicate.
Born in 1791, and christened by Jefferson a year or so later, the democratic party has long since passed the century mark in its life.
The convention system of choosing candidates for President and Vice-President superseded the Congressional caucus method in 1831. In December of that year the Whigs met in Baltimore and nominated Henry Clay for President, and John Sergeant for Vice-President. In the following May the democrats met in the same city, ostensibly for the purpose of selecting a candidate for Vice-President, but it assumed the responsibility of nominating a candidate for President.
Andrew Jackson, and Martin Van Buren for Vice-President.
No platform was framed by the democratic convention of 1832, but it adopted a resolution which provided for the perpetuation of the delegate convention system of selecting the party candidates for President and Vice-President. The two-thirds rule was then adopted.
In 1835 the democrats met again at Baltimore and nominated Van Buren for President and Richard M. Johnson of Kentucky for Vice-President. The opposition declined to make a nomination in convention, hoping to throw the election into the House of Representatives. Van Buren was successful in his election, the opposition voting generally for General Harrison instead of Henry Clay, who was the idol of the Whig party. In 1840 the two-thirds rule was used for Van Buren's overthrow. Though he had been defeated in the election four years previously by General Harrison, the nomination of Van Buren was conceded by most of his enemies. But the ex-president, on the eve of his nomination, wrote a letter on the subject of Texas annexation which offended a large portion of his Southern admirers and resulted in his defeat in the election.
On the first ballot
Van Buren had a majority of the convention, but less than two-thirds. On the eighth ballot, James K. Polk, ex-Governor of Tennessee, received the nomination, and in the following November he was elected.
In 1848 the democratic convention at Baltimore nominated Lewis Cass, who was defeated in the election by General Taylor, the Whig candidate.
In 1852 the democratic convention again assembled in Baltimore, this time on the first day of June. General Cass led at the beginning of the balloting, but on the forty-ninth ballot the nomination went to Franklin Pierce, a dark horse. In 1856 the democratic nomination went West for the first time, meeting in Cincinnati.
James Buchanan was named for President and John C. Breckinridge for Vice-President.
The most fatal convention in the history of the democratic party was that held at Charleston in 1860, which split the party into a Northern and Southern section, each of which held a convention at another place, put up a ticket of its own, and made a separate canvass. Stephen A. Douglas was the candidate of the "regular" convention, which met at Baltimore, and at Richmond the seceders from the Douglas convention nominated Breckinridge, Abraham Lincoln was the successful nominee of the republicans. In 1864 the democrats met at Chicago and nominated General McClellan for President and George W. Pendleton for Vice-President. In the convention of 1868, the only one ever held in New York, Seymour was nominated, but was easily beaten by Grant in the election. The 1872 convention accepted Horace Greeley, and Grant repeated his victory of 1868. In their convention of 1876 the democrats meeting in St. Louis, nominated their strongest and ablest man, Tilden, and came within one vote in the electoral college of electing him, and in 1880, with General Hancock as their standard-bearer, they made an active canvass, which was decided against them by the vote of New York. Cleveland and Hendricks were nominated at Chicago in 1884. Cleveland was nominated the second time at St. Louis and the third time at Chicago. William J. Bryan was nominated the first time in Chicago and the second time at Kansas City. At St. Louis, in 1894, the Parker and Davis ticket was named.

MANY CORPORATIONS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE LAWS

Surrender Their Franchises So That They Can Go Free From Competition.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 2.—In order to avail themselves of the advantage of an indeterminate franchise, as held out by chapter 493 of the laws of 1908, 50 public utility corporations of Wisconsin have surrendered their locally-granted limited-term franchises and come under the protection of the new law. While the companies are thereby subject to the utmost scrutiny and regulation by the state railroad commission, they greater immunity from the possibility of franchise being granted readily to rival and competing companies. Nearly a score of companies filed the necessary affidavits during the last two days. The time for the surrender expired last night, in fact one June 30, but papers put into the mail in June were recovered although they were not in some cases delivered to the railroad commission until yesterday. This new law was the work of Senator George B.
Hendall of Superior, and in its formation he had the assistance and advice of Senator John M. Whitehead of Janesville. The purpose is to prevent duplication of public service systems, to the end that eventually better service and lower rates may be secured for the public.

BREWERS MEAN TO START THE GUM SHOE CAMPAIGN

Will Fight Any Candidate Known To Favor The County Option Measure Proposed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 2.—Information is at hand here to the effect that the first steps which the organized brewers of Wisconsin have taken to forestall the enactment of a law by the next legislature to grant counties the right to vote as a whole on the question of licensing saloons, is said that the brewers' political organizers are exceedingly disappointed. The campaign, entirely of a gumshoe character, will, however, be kept up, and every effort will be made to secure the nomination and election of members of the legislature who will oppose a county option bill. Senator H. W. Barker of Shullsburg has a bill to divide the money which cities received from saloon licenses between the cities and the counties, on the theory that licensed saloons produce offenders and multiply the cost of police courts and of administration of justice, and that the cost falls upon the county at large and therefore the revenue from the licenses should be shared by the county as well as by the city. Some candidates for the assembly, in rural districts, have seized upon this inviting theory and have promised to help enact such a law, declaring that it is fair and just to the farmers and will put a stop to what they describe as the loading of court costs upon the farmer tax payers, while the cities, which make the costs with their licensed saloons take all the license revenue. Aside from the contest over the republican nominated for United States senator, this is the most interesting element of the coming political season counties, on the theory that licensed

DULL SEASON FOR LOCAL FACTORIES

Are Taking Inventories and Making General Repairs—Shurtliff's Rushed.

Just at this time of the year most of the factories are running the least. Some of them are shut down and some are working just enough to keep moving.

The present owner of the New Idea Quilting Co., Mr. Alworth, having sold out his machinery to another man, he leaves town next week. Whether or not the new proprietor will continue the business in this city is not known.

The Strickler Hay Tool company are busy filling orders for hay tools and the other implements put out by them. They have some orders for small repairs.

The Cullen company are working on the concrete work on the Boatwick building and have put in the footings for the columns.

The Rock River Machine company report plenty of orders, but are not rushed.

The Hawatha Water company are at present not bottling their mineral water because of a lack of coppers for the bottles. They have orders for their goods in carload lots, as soon as they can get the coppers.

The Batten company are working, but things are rather quiet.

The Janesville Shirt and Overall company are busy with plenty of orders.

The Badger State Machine company report a good business with all the orders they want and are working with their full force of men.

The P. M. Marshall shoe company is at present closed for general repairs and is at vacation for this week. Next Monday they will resume work again. They have plenty of orders and are busier this year than they were last year. When they start up again they will commence work on their fall orders and will be busy with them until the latter part of the fall. Their agents will go out on the road for the spring orders and the staling orders about the first of August.

The tenth of this month the Western Shoe company will start to take inventory and about the fifteenth of the month the factory will start up again. A new superintendent is coming to take charge of the factory and the stock taking will be made with the idea of specializing on certain styles of shoes.

The Janesville Machine company have men at work clearing out the tunnel which runs underground from the engine-room to the blow shop, in order to run a four-inch steam pipe from the boiler room to the pump in the pump-house and a six-inch water pipe from the pump-house to the blow shop.

At present the Janesville Harb Wire works are not running as this is their dull season, but they are overhauling the machinery and getting ready to start up again.

The Shurtliff company have added one of their churns as it was becoming rather small for their use and sometime in the near future they will install a larger one. The churn they sold had a capacity of 550 gallons. They will be busy for the rest of this week getting ready for the Fourth of July trade and on the third and Fourth will be extremely busy. They expect to sell between three thousand and three thousand five hundred gallons of ice cream.

JUST WAITING FOR "SPECIAL" TO MOVE

Procrastination of Railroad Company Responsible for Peggled Colored Man's Protracted Visit.

J. Winston, a colored individual with a wooden leg who was picked up by Officer Mason last evening on complaint of a First Ward lady who averred that he had been hanging around for several days, using a box car near the North Jackson street crossing for a lodging place and hovering about her premises, bottines, plied not guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this morning. While the complaint was being changed to vagrancy, Mr. Winston told the court that he was a laboring man, "yes sah," and was presently waiting here for his private car to move on to North Dakota.

"You may be an honest man, for all I know," said Chief Appleby, "but the lady says that whenever you appeared on the scene the chickens went squawking under the barn."

"Sah won't be here tomorrow if you let me go," replied the colored man very fervently, and after some consultation the proposition was accepted and he was given a chance to get out of the city.

James Roland and John Nolan, who, in company with two large jugs of whiskey, were routed out of a retreat near the east end of the Milwaukee street bridge by Chief Appleby and Officer Dorn last evening, were assessed $3.10 each with the alternative of five days in jail. They had no money and went to the bastille.

Tender-Hearted.

Mrs. Flagg—At last I've seen a tender-hearted tramp!

Mr. Flagg—How's that?

Mrs. Flagg—He came here this morning begging for something to eat. He told such a pitiful tale that I gave him a meal and offered him two of your cigars; but he wouldn't accept the cigars!

Mr. Flagg—Offered my cigars to a tramp! Well, where did his tender-heartedness come in?

Mrs. Flagg—He looked at the cigars longingly for a moment and then told me he didn't have the heart to smoke them.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Admission by Ticket.

Mandy was a young colored girl, fresh from the cotton fields of the south. One afternoon she came to her northern mistress and handed her a visiting card. "Do lady what she me dis is in de palor," she explained. "Dey's another lady on de do'step." "Gracious, Mandy," exclaimed the mistress. "Why didn't you ask both of them to come in?" "Kase, ma'am, de girl, 'do one on de do'step den forgi' her ticket."—Brooklyn Life.

Supply in Danger of Exhaustion.

"Did you hear that St. Hunkinby had gone and ordered a tombstone for himself?"

"Sakes alive! Why, then, ain't a headstone on his head yet?"

"Well, he's just back from the city, and he says if they New Yorkers keep on a-builldin' office buildin's, hotels, quick lunchers an' bootblack parlors in the style they do, the price of marble'll soon be beyond his means."—Judge.

Prudence.

"Why did you hit that boy when he was down?" asked the gray-bearded man. "Don't you know that was a cowardly thing to do?"

"It wasn't cowardly; it was just prudent," replied the boy who had delivered the blow. "He was down because he slipped, and I was afraid he might not step in the same place again if I let him get up."

His Investment.

Old Lady (who had given the tramp a nickel)—Now, what will you do with it?

Hungry Hobo—Want, yo see num, ef I buy an auto, there ain't enough left to hire a sho'ar. So I guess I'll get a schooner. I kin handle that swell.—Hobnob.

MR. KLINE MAKES A REPORT OF LABORS

Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Sums up the Work of the Association For Past Year.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. held Tuesday J. C. Kline, the general secretary, made the following report of the work of the association during the past year:

"The past winter has called for closer management, economy and strenuous efforts at times to keep abreast of our monthly demands, however, our work is fully up to the previous year, with some phases of the work in advance.

At the beginning of the fall and winter work we were compelled to make some changes in our employed force. Mr. Berryman accepted a call to the DeKalb, Ill. association as general secretary and Charles Collett, who was assisting in the building designed to enter factory work. The employment committee at once set about to secure sufficient help to carry the work. Mr. Munro of Milwaukee was asked to fill the position of physical director for the season and Sterling Campbell was chosen to assist in the building. Some very strong problems have faced us for solution in the control and management of the work, but we feel there has been a larger vision and greater action for the work before us. We have with some degree of success maintained the following lines of work during the winter months: Physical department, dormitories, boys' work, women's auxiliary, Twilight club, Social Union club, Mendelssohn club, the securing positions for young men, secured boarding and rooms for members and others who were reliable, personal visitation, giving aid to the State committee in pioneer work at several points in the state, encouraging all the people from the small towns who visit Janesville to feel there is a warm welcome in the Y. M. C. A. Many avail themselves of this privilege, passing their leisure time waiting for trains. This is an inducement for people to patronize Janesville as a center for trade. Some definite statistics will give you a better knowledge. Our physical department conducted regularly five classes each week. The business men had 52 classes session with a total attendance of 568, average at each class 9. The seniors 59 classes, total attendance 362, average 6. Intermediates 56 classes, total attendance 627, average 11. Juniors 62 classes, total attendance 891, average 14. A Juniors 62 classes, total attendance 1,160, average 20. In addition to this work basketball, handball and bowling, together with other recreative games, were interesting and helpful in maintaining this work. Our association basketball team has kept up their former record creditably, playing 14 outside games, losing only 3. Our religious work has made an advanced step in the interest and attendance at our mass meetings, and the addition of a high school Bible class with a regular attendance of 7 at each session. We have held 23 men's meetings, total attendance 227, average attendance 58; the largest number present at any one meeting was 131 and the smallest number 28. If we had taken the average for the winter months only the showing would be much larger.

We have not accomplished what we would like, but are grateful that through a season of strenuous effort, in holding our membership, social life and foundation principles up to standard. We are in line for a larger work in this association than ever before.

Put in Your Winter Supply of Coal Now

Delivery when you want it and you are sure of having it in the winter.

INDICATIONS are that the crops will be very large this year, and it will take all available box cars to move them; therefore when cars are wanted to ship coal in, we are more than likely going to have a hard time.

Any way you look at it, it is better to have your coal in now; it means a saving in cost, too. Don't delay this another day.

over the pages of the calendar, comes to the one marked "July," the city man can no longer shut his ears to the Call of the Wild. It is an insistent call that has been ringing in his ears since the first faint signs of Spring. It is a call that must be obeyed, for Nature exacts her penalty for disobedience.

In the very nature of things this call cannot mean the same to all men, for according to the understanding and knowledge and experience of each man is his interpretation. If the struggle for existence has left few red corpuscles in his blood it may mean no more to him than a blind impulse to get away from the shadow of the sky scraper and the roar of the street and to fly to any place where the sky is blue and there are sunshine and elbow room.

And to the man of larger understanding the call means many things. It may mean a summons to the canoe, with sail or with paddle; to the forest, to the open sea and the heaving deck; to rushing stream where the trout rise to the fly; to the placid lake where the black bass is ever hungry; to the bank of rushes where the mighty muskellunge lies in wait.

According to the interpretation of the call is apt to be the vacation. We Americans, the busiest people under the sun, have at last learned the necessity of at least a little relaxation and recreation once a year. But we have learned the lesson so recently that we still play awkwardly. Though we pay royally for our vacation pleasures, to few of us is it given to choose wisely, and the summer resorts are full of unhappy people as uneasy as fish out of water.

The man for whom the call contains a special message knows what vacation means to him without poring over guide books and railroad folders. The man who knows simply that he wants to get away from the city should wait long enough to exercise a little common sense.

A vacation for pleasure is one thing; a vacation for rest and recuperation is another. The man who is bent on pleasure may be left to his own devices, but the man to whom vacation time is an opportunity to recuperate from killing toil should use discretion. Rest is what he needs, but this rest should not be absolute inaction.

Change is the great factor in relaxation and rest. There is an instinctive longing for something which the daily life does not furnish. In making this change it often is not wise to choose the strenuous, yet there should be enough of the unusual to take the mind far from the troubles that are left at home. What is the change that appeals most is known only to each man himself, but certain it is that a change of some kind is within the reach of most of us. And in deciding let us remember that the right kind of vacation is a godsend and the wrong kind often worse than none.

Let us also remember that on our part are certain obligations that obtain no less in the wild than in the midst of civilization. We must give the fish and the game a fair chance for life, also we sink to the level of the market hunter. We must kill no more than we need, also we become butchers rather than sportsmen. We must not set no forest fires, also we become guilty of the crime unspeakable.

Finally, let us remember that the spiritual man needs nature's cure often quite as much as the physical man. In the Silent Places there is opportunity for profitable communion with self and a casting up of accounts. The solitude and the open air and the sunshine teach many a lesson that the city has scant time to listen to; oftentimes the Call of the Wild is a call to higher and better things.

Now that Tat has left the War department they can wheel in a smaller chair and take his old one over to the White House.

New York is to have another skyscraper. Per agreement it will not reach up to the moon—but near it.

OFF THE TRACK.

The limited goes sixty miles an hour. In the smoker men joke and play cards and tell risqué stories. The day coaches are crowded and comfortable. The heavy sleepers as they sway to and fro make only a gentle rocking for the people who chat and read and nap. Crash! Engine and cars and flesh and blood are ground up together in a shapeless, horrid mass.

Off the track!

So goes humanity's train. Here is a boy who got to running on a fast schedule. He began by pilfering his father's till. As he grew older he made faster time. Down grade he goes. And soon comes the crash. Newsboys cry a murder and a suicide. The crowd hails for a moment. His friends murmur, "I never thought he was so bad." A young man is—

Off the track.

A young girl thinks her mother is too slow for these record breaking times. Mother is "old fashioned." The girl goes to places her mother has warned her she should not frequent. The bloom is brushed from the fruit. Brutal appetites lust after it. One day a brazen, drunken creature, cursing and shrieking, is loaded into the patrol wagon. A woman is—

Off the track.

A man gets in a hurry to be rich. His father went slowly, carefully, successfully, but father's methods will not do. "What's the use of mulling and toiling when a quicker way may well do the business?" So-and-so has speculated successfully. Surely I am as shrewd as he." A pistol shot! A man is—

Off the track.

Why did the train go off the track? It may be the rails were too light or the curves too sharp or the equipment poor. Slower locomotion might have prevented accidents. Sixty miles an hour was too fast. But the rival line is scheduled at that. Our train must get in on time. Open the throttle. Shovel the coal. What matters if we do go—

Off the track?

Our age is a rapid one. Business, society, goes at a sixty mile clip. Rather than be sidetracked for a time men will drive their trains into the ditch. Many of them run wild. There are frequent collisions and wrecks innumerable by getting—

Off the track.

Look out, thriving but venturesome merchant and reckless young woman and gay young man. The race is not to the swift alone. Put on the brakes. Slow up or before you know it you will be—

Off the track.

Simple ideals.

"That engaged girl thinks she is very practical."

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne, "but she isn't. She thinks all that is necessary to make home happy is a chafin dish and a rubber tree."—Washington Star.

The limited goes sixty miles an hour. In the smoker men joke and play cards and tell risqué stories. The day coaches are crowded and comfortable. The heavy sleepers as they sway to and fro make only a gentle rocking for the people who chat and read and nap. Crash! Engine and cars and flesh and blood are ground up together in a shapeless, horrid mass.

Off the track!

So goes humanity's train. Here is a boy who got to running on a fast schedule. He began by pilfering his father's till. As he grew older he made faster time. Down grade he goes. A man gets in a hurry to be rich. His father went slowly, carefully, successfully, but father's methods will not do. "What's the use of mulling and toiling when a quicker way may well do the business?" So-and-so has speculated successfully. Surely I am as shrewd as he." A pistol shot! A man is—

Why did the train go off the track? It may be the rails were too light or the curves too sharp or the equipment poor. Slower locomotion might have prevented accidents. Sixty miles an hour was too fast. But the rival line is scheduled at that. Our train must get in on time. Open the throttle. Shovel the coal. What matters if we do go—

FRIGHTENED BY TWO
BUSY WHITELIGHTERS

Midnight Exploration of Cistern Under Bedroom Window for Buried Treasure Gave Mrs. Geo. Sanger a Bad Scare.

Exploring the bottom of the rain-water tank with a cistern-cleaning, at midnight, and roundly cursing at the buried treasure which persistently refused to come up with the mud, two white-lighters gave Mrs. George Sanger a bad scare last evening. The scene of their labors was directly under her bedroom window at 113 Terrace street, and the window was open. At the sound of her voice, the two prowlers dropped the pump, went slithering across the lawn, and disappeared in the darkness. About a fortnight ago George Sanger lives on another floor of the same house, lost a large, solid silver dollar. It slipped out of his waistcoat pocket while he was drawing a pull of water. Mr. Sanger tried the cistern-cleaning but soon abandoned what proved to be an almost hopeless search. But news of lost wealth travels rapidly to the most remote corners and there are always adventurous spirits abroad, as last night's sequel shows.

WHEELLOCK GIVEN A CHANCE TO BE GOOD

Youth Who Is Alleged to Have Abused His Little Wife Last Evening Promises to Turn Over New Leaf. "I didn't kick any door down, did I, Della?" "You smashed the door a couple of times—yes you did!" "Judge, I think a lot of her. Of course I'm not rich, but I'll go out in the country and work for her—" The Court—"Well, you don't show it by getting drunk and raising hell. If I were her I wouldn't have anything to do with you until you had proven yourself to be a man who will do right. In this case one month pending good behavior. If you get drunk again there'll be no leniency next time." In answering to the charge of applying abusive and obscene language to his wife, Bert Wheellock cut a sorry figure in municipal court this morning. The tall youth looked around for sympathy and support in his predicament, but found none. One could see at a glance that the spectators were all in favor of a good sound spanking for Bertie. Finally he appealed to the little woman who had accused him, but she only waved an impatient hand and then stood firm. Wheellock and his bride of a year had been living of late on a farm not far from the city. While in his cups on several occasions the young husband is alleged to have played the role of a household terror. As any rate the wife finally left him and came to the city with her mother-in-law. Yesterday Wheellock followed suit and after recommitting a fighting charge, visited the place last evening and gave a demonstration of just how much of a beast a man can make of himself. The young woman ran to the police station for help and indicated "bobby" spent the balance of the night behind the bars.

VICE PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS AT TOP. UNITED STATES SENATOR JAMES HEMENWAY AT BOTTOM.

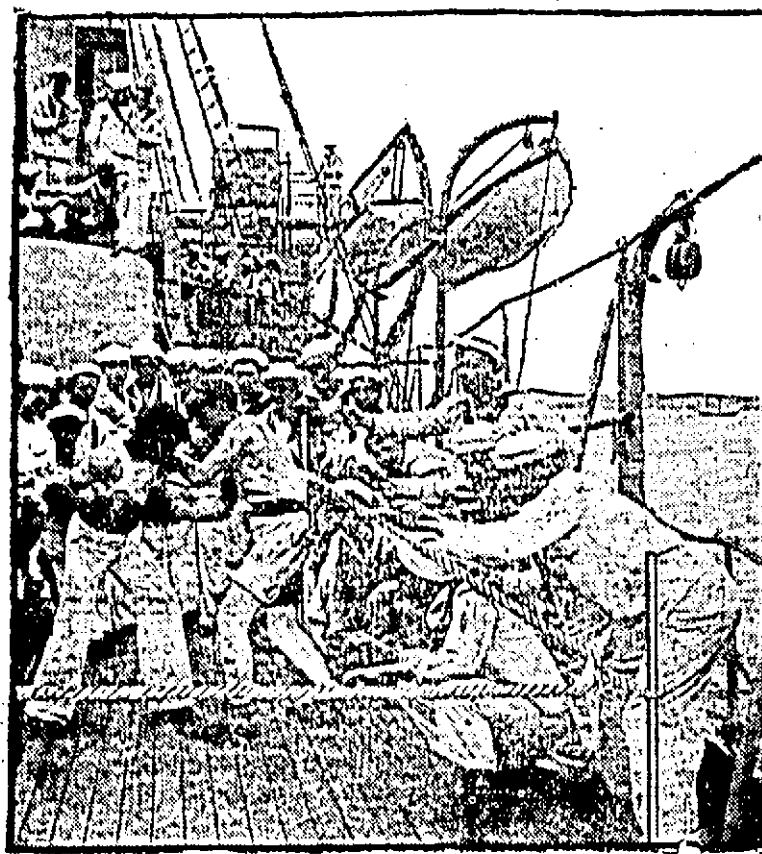

Washington, D. C.—Before the republican ticket was named at Chicago, Vice President Fairbanks was the principal question mark on the political horizon. He wanted the presidency and couldn't have it. He could have had the vice presidency and didn't want it. Now he has neither, and the question is just how far will his shadow fall across the path of James Alexander Hemenway, of Knoxville, Ind.

It is recorded that the Hon. James Alexander succeeded Vice President Fairbanks in the upper house of congress from the Hoosier state. His term expires March 3, 1909. He is also recorded that the term of Vice President Fairbanks, whose retirement from the senate gave Hemenway the job, also expires on March 3, 1909. And thereby hangs the question mark.

Despite a well advertised reserve, it must be admitted that Mr. Fairbanks likes public life. His elimination from the presidency and his voluntary retirement from the vice presidency leaves him at present without political status. In view of the fact that he is Indiana's "favorite son," with apologies to Albert J. Beveridge, who is also in the favorite son business—it is entirely possible that should Mr. Fairbanks desire to return to the senate and again occupy the seat which he so successfully warmed from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1905, the Indiana legislature would find it, in its goodness of heart, to soften the blow which the republican convention handed Mr.

Fairbanks' ambitions and again give him his old seat in the upper house of congress. It cannot be denied that Vice President Fairbanks was a splendid member of the senate. In fact, his excellent service during one term of this august body was the principal reason for his election to the second highest place in all the land. On the other hand, Senator Hemenway is a valued member of the senate and has been a consistent and enthusiastic supporter of the vice president in his presidential ambitions. It might be construed as base ingratitude were Mr. Fairbanks to be considered a candidate for Senator Hemenway's seat. To date he has given no intimation of any such desire, and it is entirely possible that he harbors no such purpose, but it would not be the farthest from political possibilities to see the result of the Chicago convention apparent in a mighty interesting situation involving the Indiana senatorship, which is to become vacant at the same time that Indiana's vice president steps down and out.

It has been frequently suggested that Mr. Fairbanks will be asked to occupy a prominent position in the next republican cabinet should the republican presidential ticket succeed. The place which most harmonizes with his demonstrated ability and dignity as a statesman and diplomat would be the portfolio of state. And it would not be the greatest of political surprises to see the eminent gentleman from Indiana occupying this prominent position.

FLASHLIGHT OF FATAL PRIZE FIGHT IN THE NAVY—PRIVATE HAGAN WHO WAS KILLED, AT LEAGUE ISLAND NAVY YARD; JOHN HOGAN OF PHILADELPHIA, WHO DELIVERED THE FATAL BLOW.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Another fatality has occurred in the ring. This time one of Uncle Sam's best type of athletic soldiers is the victim. The fight occurred on board the United States battleship Mississippi, at League Island, shortly before midnight on June 18. It was a grueling affair from start to finish and death was due to Hagan's "bad" condition for the fight. Around the ring were several officers and together with drawing card for a smoker and was to have furnished amusement for the people gathered. In the midst of cheering and life, the chaplain, with white face and trembling lips, burst into the ring and held up his hand for attention.

"Wait," he cried, "Private Hagan, who fought so valiantly in that last fight, has died." The awed silence of the men in the presence of death was broken by the words: "Let us pray for his soul."

ONE KILLED IN COLLISION

BAGGAGEMAN DIES IN WRECK AT DES MOINES, IA.

Work Train Crashes Into Passenger At a Crossing—Three Men Are Seriously Hurt.

Des Moines, Ia., July 2.—One man was killed, three were seriously injured and a half-dozen were slightly hurt when a Great Western work train crashed into the Rock Island passenger train, passing on the Rock Island tracks, at the East Sixteenth street crossing Wednesday at 11:38 a. m.

The truck of a locomotive on the work train passed entirely in front of the passenger train, pushing seven passengers in the rear end of the car. The turning of the engine hurled three trunks onto the prostrate form of baggageman W. H. Urbahn, so injuring him that he died in the hospital.

The wreck was caused by the efforts of the engineers of both trains to make the crossing at the same time. Both claim to have whistled for the crossing and both sent their engines toward it at a fair speed.

The Great Western work engine was backing west, pushing a lone tender, which struck the passenger train and threw it from the track. The Indiana train, composed of engine, tender, the smoking car and the day coach, was half way across the intersection when it was struck in the middle by the tender of the work train engine.

Those most seriously injured are: H. C. Fowler, Chillicothe, rib broken; E. G. Ruggles, Oskaloa, Ia., crushed and bruised, and D. F. Sanders, Carlisle, Ia., head bruised and cut.

NOT COMBINING AGAINST BRYAN

GRAY AND JOHNSON BOOMERS DISCLAIM ANY ALLIANCE.

DON'T ASK SECOND PLACE

Supporters of Minnesota Governor Especially Forceful on That Point—Further Talk of Injunction Plank.

Denver, Col., July 2.—Claiming a victory on the first ballot, but overlooking no possible chance to make their triumph sure, the followers of Mr. Bryan have been watching for any move on the part of his rivals that would compel him to go single handed against the field, as Taft was obliged to show his strength in the early stages of the Chicago convention against the combined forces of the "allies."

The arrival Wednesday, however, of the personal representatives of Judge Gray and Gov. Johnson, the only candidates who are now expected to enter the race against Mr. Bryan, has failed to disclose any common ground of agreement between them.

The Gray managers asserted that they had no intention of entering into a coalition with the followers of Gov. Johnson and had not received from them, or made to them, any overtures for a combination. The same disclaimer of a desire to pool issues was made by the Johnson people.

Neither Wants Second Place.

The followers of Mr. Bryan profess to believe that the refusal of the Gray and the Johnson men to make a combined fight against the strength of Mr. Bryan means that they are not adverse to occupying positions in which they can avail themselves of Bryan votes for second place in the event of his nomination for the presidency.

On this point, however, both Mr. Lynch for Gov. Johnson, and Mr. Marvel for Judge Gray, insist that the Bryan people are utterly in the wrong. They mean, they say, are out for the first place and are giving no consideration to the vice-presidency.

The chief arrivals Wednesday, in point of political importance, were those of Frederick D. Lynch, Frank M. Day, D. W. Lawler, mayor of St. Paul, and Richard T. O'Connor of the same city, all of them enthusiastic supporters of the Minnesota governor.

Mayor Lawler, who acted as spokesman, said that all talk of Gov. Johnson taking second place on the ticket is utter nonsense. "He will not take it," said Mayor Lawler, "it is out of the question to talk of such a thing. Even if the governor was himself disposed to accept the vice-presidential nomination, and I assure you he is not, the people of Minnesota would not permit him to do so. The Democrats of Minnesota and his real friends throughout the country are not willing that Gov. Johnson should be sidetracked into the vice-presidency. He is too big a man for that place and he belongs in the presidential chair if he goes to Washington at all."

More Talk of Injunction Plank.

Discussion of the platform continues to be largely confined to the anti-injunction plank and on this subject the latest information from Lincoln regarding Mr. Bryan's attitude toward that portion of the resolutions was brought by Frank S. Monett, former attorney general of Ohio, who arrived in Denver Wednesday with the announcement that Mr. Bryan desired him to address the resolutions committee on the legal phases of an anti-injunction plank. Mr. Monett personally is in favor of a strong utterance upon the subject.

Samuel Alschuler, who is the probable member of the committee on resolutions from Illinois, declared that he did not believe the anti-injunction plank to be of such a character that any controversy would be provoked by it.

Montana for Bryan.

KELLOGG IS NOT TO BE CHAIRMAN

MINNESOTA MAN WON'T CONSIDER TENDER OF THE PLACE.

CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Choice of Republican Campaign Chief Not Yet Made Says Taft After Long Talk with Vorys.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 2.—It can be stated with assurance that Frank B. Kellogg, Republican national committee man from Minnesota, will not consider a tender of the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

For a time Wednesday it looked as though Mr. Kellogg had been practically decided on for the place. He was in consultation with President Roosevelt and National Committeeman William L. Ward of New York, and spent the night at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

Conference at Oyster Bay.

Having slipped almost unannounced into Oyster Bay, and driven their automobile direct to Sagamore Hill, without having first stopped at the executive offices in the village, as is customary, Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Ward were received by the president at 12:14 o'clock and ate luncheon with Mr. Roosevelt.

At three o'clock the two national committee men were escorted by the president to their automobile. When Mr. Kellogg was asked whether he had any news regarding the national chairmanship he replied that he was full of news on the subject, but that anything on the result of their conference with President Roosevelt would have to come from Secretary Loeb. But the secretary had nothing to say.

No Choice Yet, Says Taft.

Washington, July 2.—After a conference with Arthur I. Vorys of Ohio, lasting two hours and a half, Wednesday afternoon, Secretary Taft said: "You can say absolutely definitely that the chairmanship of the Republican national committee has not yet been settled. You can say, also, that no announcement of a decision as to the chairmanship will be made until I have conferred at Hot Springs, Va., next Wednesday with the subcommittee of the national committee. I hope this is sufficiently definite and that my statement will be accepted."

NORMAL ELBERFELD

Shortstop of the New York Highlanders, is one of the most valuable of major league players, as he combines all the qualifications of a star. No member of his profession is more daring in running bases or blocking a runner. No pitcher has ever driven him from the plate, but he often gets in the way of a pitched ball in the hope of being awarded first base, many of his rows with umpires having their origin in this trick. He never stays on duty for a season, and so far has only taken part in 16 games in this race. His leg was injured early last spring in a collision. He played in the Virginia, Texas and Southern leagues before joining the Detroit team of the Western league, from which he went to Cincinnati, but was turned back to the Wolverines. In 1903 the Kid was transferred to the New York Highlanders, for which he has starred.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., July 2.—Four candidates are now in the field for the republican nomination for sheriff of Green county. Mat E. Solbraa of New Glenn was in the city yesterday and survive her.

Announcement was received here of the death of Wm. Roanoke, formerly of this city, at his home at Buchanan, Mich. He was engaged in the lumber business here and moved to Michigan six years ago. The funeral will be held at Broadhead, possibly on Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. T. Rundert will leave next week to visit relatives in New York and to make a tour of points of interest in the east.

JUDGE A. D. WICKHAM
DIED LAST NIGHT

At the Age of Ninety Had a Prominent Place in Janesville's Early History.

A. D. Wickham, police justice and prominent citizen during the early days of Janesville, died at the age of ninety years at the county hospital, at ten o'clock last evening. His passing was due to advanced age and a complication of disease. One son, A.
L. Wickham, of Janesville, survives him. In his days, Judge Wickham was one of the foremost lawyers and politicians. He was gifted with a fine physique, a splendid voice, and a keen perception and analytic mind, which gave him a ranking with the best of his associates of the Rock county bar. His former overlook him as he neared old age and for four years past he had been obliged to make his home at the county farm, where he found a kind and sympathetic friend in Supl. Killian.

A Cleaning Hint.

ring left around the part cleaned can

FASHIONS FOR JULY

2180 2046
1820
1989

Newport, Rhode Island, July 2.—
The Directors' skirt is a problem, and while several have appeared in this city, where the newest of the new may always be found, its general adoption is very uncertain. It however presents a favorable opportunity for those who desire to be completely up to date. It is wholly impracticable for general wear, and suitable only for those who have their own equipment, or for dinner or other in-door entertainments. Several Callot models just sent over from Paris have very narrow, long skirts on the seamless order but are not the genuine Directoire.

A Callot Costume.
One of these is of blue marquisette over white silk, having a deep facing of blue marquisette on the skirt. In very large scallops, the upper edge finished by narrow gilt braid. Above this is a panel of marquisette, laid in the tucks, with a second marquisette facing above. The front bodice hangs loose, and is also bordered by marquisette.
The corsege trimming conveys the effect of a closely-fitting sleeveless jacket, heavily embroidered throughout in blue and gold. The front is flat, and square and three large blue buttons are at each side. An Empire effect is given by two long, scarf ends of figured black lace, attached to embrodered squares, at the center of the back. The sleeves are short with two marquisette facings, the upper one quite wide, and the lower one narrower. The width of the skirt lining is two and three-quarter yards.

Another Imported Gown.
This one is of grayish blue meter satin (so narrow that pedicrismism seems a difficult feat) the skirt edged by a wide corded fold. A blue piece of the material is set on at the left side, and then carried around the back, crosses the front breadth and is attached to the straight piece at the left side by a slash of the material in long loops. This blue trimming is cut in points, each finished by a possum-ton tassel. The corsege is square at the front and beautifully embroidered in blue silk, with the Callot finish of three conventional buttons at the sides.
The elegant short sleeve with a deep facing.

Silk Jackets.
A blue silk jacket worn over a lingerie dress at the Casino, by one of Newport's smartest dressed, was closely braided in white silk braid put on in straight lines, loops, scrolls or in any form required to fill up spaces.

Madison as the honored guest. Mrs.
E. Mattee and Mrs. Torphy of Foot-denly to be brought home Monday and at present writing is improving.

Mrs. Emma Winters was happily surprised last Saturday afternoon by those in attendance. There were sev-

by Miss Cora Morgan and Mrs. Ed-

A SAN FRANCISCO PHYSICIAN.

Uses Herpicide Successfully in Treating Syphilis of the Beard.
He says: "I recently treated a case of syphilis (similar to 'barber's itch') of the lower lip, with Newbro's Her-picide. There was an extensive loss of beard with inflammation extending well down on the chin. The result of the application of Herpicide was most satisfactory. The loss of beard ceased and a new growth of hair is now taking place over the once inflamed area." (Signed.) Melville E. O'Neill, M. D., "845 Howard St., San Francisco, Cal."

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ

Unusually Shaped Men While it is perfectly true that there is a wonderful discrepancy in the size, height and general stature of ordinary men, it is nevertheless a fact that fully 75 per cent of us can be easily, readily and perfectly fitted at a first-class clothing store.

But what of the other 25 per cent? They are either abnormally short or tall, or exceptionally stout or slim. They may have round or straight shoulders, short arms and long legs, or vice versa. Anyhow, they are difficult to fit, and they ought to have clothes made to order if they can afford to pay the custom tailor's prices. It is a most unusual thing to find a ready-to-wear clothing store where the unusually sized or shaped man can be correctly fitted. It means extra enterprise, extra trouble and extra expense to keep these rurly-called-for sizes in stock, nevertheless, the man who thinks his figure is out of the ordinary in any way, and who believes it is impossible to get a perfect fit at a clothing store, will find himself pleasantly unexpected if he will visit Ford's and allow himself to be fitted with a suit of his own selection.

We are showing some very smart clothes just now at very fascinating prices. No reservations.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 2, 1868.—Robbery.—A German, who was stopping at the Union House in this city, claims to have been robbed last night of a carpet sack containing $500 in money and other articles. The property was taken from his room.

Arrest Of Alleged Rogue.—A fellow by the name of Zeh, who has resided here recently, was arrested in Chicago yesterday morning by Sheriff Wills of Kalamazoo, Mich., on a charge of stealing $500. Capt. Putnam has been on the track of the gent for some time on suspicion that he knew more of the burglaries here than he cared to confess.

Mr. Seward is still engaged in negotiating for the hyperborean regions lying in the vicinity of the north pole. Having secured Alaska he is now busily engaged in estimating the value of "Greenland's" ice mountains and the feasibility of Iceland with the hope that our government may be induced to purchase. The bargain is a plank and one to contemplate these hot days while the thermometer indicates one hundred degrees in the shade, but as a profitable financial speculation we fear the negotiation will be a failure.

New York, July 2.—Last evening Mr. Belmont entertained the members of the national Democratic executive committee, and the question of the distribution of tickets of admission was discussed but no final conclusion was made known. Judges will be distributed to delegates and members of the press and no one will be permitted to go beyond the railings.

The Times now says Chief Justice Chase will not receive a vote from the New York delegation, and it may be added that it is impossible to find a democrat who believes he was ever mentioned in the convention.

The New Hampshire delegation arrived today, and all the New England delegates will be here by tomorrow morning.

The Pendleton escort arrived today. Appearances indicate that Pendleton is to have a most positive strength, but not, it is judged, sufficient to insure his nomination.

Excessive Drinking

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system.

The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way.

It is too late, the craving has secured a firm hold and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkenness is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkenness" mailed in sealed envelope by The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C., and in this city by People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy.
